

Information and help with applying for externally advertised posts

Introduction

Thank you for considering a career in Belfast City Council. This pack contains information you need to know about applying for a job with us. The guidance notes will help you to complete your application form.

The application pack includes the following documents which you will need to read before completing your application form:

- Job description – this tells you the purpose and main tasks of the job.
- Employee specification – this tells you the skills and experience you need to apply for the job. This can include qualifications, experience or skills which you must have to be able to apply for the job. If you do not have the essential criteria for the job you will not be invited to the next stage of the process. There may also be some additional shortlisting criteria, which can be applied if a large number of applications are received.
- Terms of Application and Main Terms and Conditions of Employment - this tells you about the recruitment process and timeframe, the pay, location and other information about the job and benefits of working for the council. It is important to check that you are eligible to apply for the post, for example, some jobs are internal council trawls open only to Belfast City Council employees.
- Application form – we use the information in your application form to decide who meets the essential criteria and the short-listing criteria for the job. You should therefore use the application form to tell us by way of personal and specific examples exactly how you meet the criteria for the job (as detailed in the employee specification).

Completing the Application Form

Please ensure you answer all questions. If you are completing your application form in hand-written format please make sure your writing is legible and use black ink. Alternatively you can download and type an application form in Word format (using Arial font size 11).

Please enter your name, address and preferred contact telephone number on the front page of the application form.

- (b) If you are applying for a post on the basis of a qualification which is not specifically detailed in the employee specification for the post, but which you consider to be a relevant equivalent qualification, you must provide specific evidence to demonstrate its equivalency in comparison to the qualification that was specifically detailed in the employee specification. It is your responsibility to demonstrate on the application form how the qualification you possess is deemed equivalent to the qualification(s) detailed in the employee specification. You must submit clear evidence in respect of the subjects/modules you have undertaken, the examining body which has verified its equivalency for you and the breadth of overlap. If you do not provide this 'equivalency information' the panel will not be able to consider your application further.

- You must possess any relevant qualifications and/or membership of a professional body, if this is required in the employee specification, at the closing date for receipt of application forms. If you are currently studying for or waiting for exam results, the panel cannot consider these. Similarly, if you have completed a degree or Masters but have not yet graduated, we cannot consider this.
 - Belfast City Council deems a third level qualification to be equivalent to NVQ Level 4.
- (c) Professional qualifications (if applicable):
Please include full details of the professional body or organisation, the current professional qualification and the date of attainment.
- (d) Current membership of professional bodies (if applicable):
Please include the name of the professional body or organisation, the type of membership you hold, for example, Graduate, Associate, Fellow, etc, and the date when this grade of membership was obtained. If the membership has lapsed, please state this on the application form.

Employment history: Please provide the following information:

Details of present employment: include the name and address of your current employer, the exact date your employment started (that is, the date, month and year), the title of the position you hold and your current salary or scale of post. It is important to state your exact dates of employment (that is, date, month and year) because this is calculated to the day for short-listing purposes.

Details of previous employment: include the name and address of your previous employers, the exact start and end dates of employment (that is, date, month and year), the title of position(s) you held and the salary or scale of post. Please include all previous positions which have you held with previous employers.

Section 3: Possession of a driving licence (if applicable) and demonstrating evidence of your experience

Possession of a driving licence:

- Depending on the position you are applying for, this question may be included on the application form.
- If you are applying for a post which requires you to drive a council vehicle or requires you to drive your own vehicle as part of your daily duties, for example, Environmental Health Officer, Quality Officer, Security Team Leader, Assistant Manager (Cleansing), Dog Warden etc. you are required to hold a full, current driving licence which enables you to drive in Northern Ireland, and a car for official business, or, access to a form of transport which will enable you to meet the requirements of the post. Please be advised that this alternative, i.e. access to a form of transport, is a 'reasonable adjustment' specifically for applicants with disabilities who, as a result of their disability, are unable to hold a full, current driving licence. Given the business need for the post-holder to carry out specific duties, the 'reasonableness' of this adjustment will be thoroughly considered prior to any appointment being made.
- If you are applying for a driving post, for example, LGV Driver, Tractor Driver etc., you are required to hold a full, current driving licence which specifically allows you to drive that type or category of vehicle in Northern Ireland, for example, Class C.
- In both cases, above, you should indicate your response on the application form by ticking either 'Yes' or 'No' option.

- For verification purposes please state your licence number and the start and expiry date of your driving licence. By providing this information you are consenting to Belfast City Council verifying your licence details with the Driver and Vehicle Agency (NI).

Experience

- Please state the start and end dates of your relevant experience (that is, date, month and year) and check the accuracy of these dates before submitting your application form. It is important to state your exact dates of employment (that is, date, month and year) because this is calculated to the day for short-listing purposes. If you provide insufficient detail about the dates of your experience, you will not be short-listed.
- You must possess the required length of experience at the closing date for receipt of application forms as the short-listing and interview panel will only consider experience up to this date.
- Please note that the panel can only make a decision to invite you to the next stage of the selection process, i.e. assessment centre, selection testing, interviews etc., based on the information you provide in your application form and how this matches the criteria in the employee specification. You must complete the relevant information relating to your experience in the relevant section/'box' provided. The selection panel will not 'read across' the various section/'boxes' of the application form. If you submit this information in another 'box' or in a different section of the application form, it will not be considered by the selection panel. Never assume that because the short-listing panel know you, or your work, or because you have worked in the council for a long time that there is no need to provide detailed information in your application form. It is your responsibility to demonstrate sufficient evidence, by way of personal and specific examples, that you meet the criteria in the employee specification. If you supply insufficient detail, by way of personal and specific examples, you cannot be short-listed.
- You must complete the application form in either typescript (Arial font size 11) or legible hand-writing using black ink. You must limit your text to no more than one A4 page per criterion. You must not use continuation sheets. If you submit more than one page per criterion, the short-listing panel will only consider the first page of information and you may not be short-listed.
- You must not delete alter the format of the application form.
- Please do not attach additional sheets or extracts from CVs rather than completing the appropriate boxes on the application form. These additional sheets will not be considered by the short-listing panel.
- You will be required to demonstrate, by giving personal and specific examples on your application form, how you meet the experience as detailed in the employee specification. What we mean by personal and specific examples is evidence of your personal involvement in this experience and relevant examples to show the breadth of your experience.
For example, to demonstrate your personal involvement, you should use 'I', not 'we', when completing your application form. Using 'I' portrays your personal involvement more and lets the panel know exactly what your personal involvement was and what you were personally responsible for doing. 'We' gives the impression that you did not personally undertake the duties or that you were somehow involved but didn't really have ownership or responsibility for the experience – it does not tell the panel about your personal experience, only that of a team or the organisation. It is your individual personal experience that the panel is looking for.
You should also provide specific detail of your experience (that is, how you went about gaining the experience, what you did, what this involved etc.) and provide examples (that is, tasks, projects, occurrences, events etc. that evidence your experience) which demonstrate the breadth of your experience.

For example, if you are asked to demonstrate, by way of personal and specific examples, that you have one year's experience of managing staff, it is not sufficient to simply state "We manage staff well in our organisation” “I have experience of managing staff” or “I feel I am capable of managing staff” or “It is important to be able to manage staff” – vague, text book answers are not sufficient. An example of a good, clear response is “I have more than one year’s experience of managing staff. I have managed staff from (exact dates: from – to). I directly managed 5 staff members from (exact dates: from – to). To do this effectively, I (demonstrate how you managed the staff) scheduled weekly meetings where I allocated and monitored workloads. I also held monthly one to one meetings to discuss individual performance and personal development. At these meetings, I gave the staff updates on new developments and we discussed how our work impacts on the work of the organisation and how we could improve things. When problems occurred, I spoke to my staff to resolve the problem as soon as possible. An example to demonstrate my experience of staff management is how I handled one staff member who was under-performing in his job. I met with him to discuss his performance and to ask if there were any issues that were affecting his performance. He told me that he had some family issues and was finding it difficult to concentrate in work. We agreed on what was expected from him in terms of performance and we came up with some interim options that would help him achieve the current work priorities and start work earlier and leave earlier to enable him to spend a little more time at home. We agreed on the timeframe and I met with him every week to discuss his performance. I also spoke to the other staff members about the arrangement but ensured his personal information was kept confidential. After 3 weeks, which was our agreed timeframe, he thanked me for being flexible and resumed his normal working hours. I feel that I managed this staff management issue well because I was able to help the member of staff and ensure that his performance at work remained stable”.....etc etc. Give good, substantive examples.

- Again, for example, if you are asked to demonstrate, by way of personal and specific examples, that you have one year’s experience of dealing effectively with customers, it is not sufficient to simply state, ‘Customer are important in our organisation’ or I deal with customers in my current job’ or ‘I know how to deal with customers.’

An example of a good, clear response is: “I have more than one year’s experience of dealing effectively with customers. I have dealt effectively with customers from (exact dates: from – to). To do this effectively (demonstrate how you dealt effectively with customers) I was always polite and responsive and made sure I only gave them accurate information. I gave them my full attention and was as helpful as possible. When I worked in the supermarket, I was required to deal with customers on the shop-floor. As part of my daily duties, I had to direct customers to items in the shop and deal with customers when operating the cash tills. When I was promoted to Duty Officer (exact dates: from – to) I was required to work on the Customer Service desk. I had to deal with many irate customers and situations including exchanging faulty goods and completing refunds for unsatisfied customers. An example to demonstrate my experience of dealing effectively with customers was how I managed an irate customer who had a complaint about a faulty DVD. He was very upset because this was the second DVD that he had to return. Even though I had not dealt with him on the first occasion, I listened carefully to his complaint and empathised with his situation. I apologised on behalf of the store for the faulty product and offered him a full refund or exchange. He was still not happy with the store’s service so I advised him to complete the company’s customer complaints form while I contacted my manager. I assured him that his custom was important to us and that I would do whatever I could to make sure his complaint was dealt with. I advised him that I would ring the manufacturer as a matter of urgency and that consideration could be given to recalling all of those DVDs. He seemed a bit happier with this and asked for a full product refund. By the time my manager arrived, I had dealt with the situation effectively. The customer explained the whole situation over again to my manager but added that he felt I had dealt with his complaint patiently and fairly and that, whilst he still wanted to progress his formal customer complaint form, he was happy with the way he had been treated and with his full refund. When he left, my manager thanked me for dealing with the situation so effectively”...etc etc. Give good, substantive examples.

This means that all applicants are required to sit and pass these tests or assessments before they can be guaranteed an interview.
