

Topic Paper: Control of Outdoor Advertisements

Local Development Plan 2020-2035

Belfast
City Council

Executive Summary

Context

Outdoor advertising forms part of our everyday culture, often adding vibrancy and colour to our streets, it can be a valuable source of information and is viewed by many as a form of entertainment in itself. It contributes to the creation of a vibrant and competitive economy.

Belfast Council recognises the potential benefits of outdoor advertising and the contributions to vibrant and competitive economy. These include adding interest to the street scene, making areas safer at night through better illumination and screening unsightly sites. However, the Council also recognises that done badly or in the wrong place, advertising can be harmful. It can result in visual clutter, obstacles to pedestrians, and hazard to distraction to road users.

Belfast has a unique natural and urban built environment and the protection and enhancement through sensitive positioning of outdoor advertising is not only vital to its built heritage and man-made attractions; but to its distinctive cultural scene and streetscape. Land use planning can encourage the provision of a quality environment that promotes and enhances whilst protecting the City's public realm, visual amenity and physical appearance. In providing for an attractive quality environment this will attract tourists, visitors, investors into Belfast LGD and aid to grow the local economy.

Given the potential impact of outdoor advertising on amenity, both positive and negative, there is a need to balance the requirements of the industry with the protection and, where possible, enhancement of the character and appearance of our cities, settlements and surrounding countryside. All advertisements can affect the appearance of the building or place where they are displayed whether on a temporary or permanent nature. The plan will need to carefully consider how to promote the City and its surrounding areas whilst protecting the City's cultural, man-made, built and natural assets.

The policy approach for the display of outdoor advertisements that require the consent of the planning authority is to ensure that proposals do not prejudice amenity or public safety, having regard to the specific circumstance of each proposal. The overall aim of the future Local Development Plan is to help everyone involved in the display of outdoor advertisement to contribute positively to the appearance of a well-cared for and attractive environment in our city, settlements and surrounding countryside.

1.0 Introduction

- 1.1 This is one of a series of 17 topic papers which have been put together to inform the Sustainability Appraisal Scoping Report for the Belfast Local Development Plan (LDP).
- 1.2 Each topic paper provides a summary of the evidence base required for the Sustainability Appraisal, Preferred Options Paper and Local Development Plan. They establish a baseline position and identify the key issues that need to be addressed.
- 1.3 By combining the evidence gathering stages for both the Sustainability Appraisal and Local Development Plan, we aim to streamline the documentation produced and avoid duplication. It will also help to ensure that sustainable development is embedded in the planning process and that sustainability appraisal is one of the main drivers informing the preparation of the Local Development Plan.
- 1.4 Each topic paper can be read separately but, inevitably, there are important related matters in other topic papers and background evidence. The key related topic papers are; 'Natural Environment', 'Built and Historic Environment', 'Economy, Retail and Employment and 'Infrastructure'.
- 1.5 The purpose of the planning system is to secure the orderly and consistent development of land to facilitate sustainable patterns of growth and development whilst protecting and, where appropriate enhancing the natural and man-made environment. To achieve this aim it is essential that the development needs of society are properly identified.

Member Workshops

- 1.6 The series of 17 Topic Papers were drafted in the early part of 2016 to provide elected members with baseline information to inform the preparation of the Local Development Plan. As such the information presented within this topic paper is intended to:
 - Build the capacity of the members to make informed planning decisions, particularly within the plan making context;
 - Provide baseline information which will inform Development Plan Policy making at a local level;
 - Consider the Settlement Hierarchy within the new Belfast Local Government District;
 - Assess the land use needs of a growing population within the Belfast City Council area and to consider the adequacy of the existing growth strategy; and
 - To link with important ongoing work in relation to the development of a Community Plan (the Belfast Agenda) and other strategic work being undertaken by the Council.
- 1.7 These papers were presented to members for discussion at a series of informal workshops with Planning Committee Members throughout the Spring 2016, with key issues and opportunities for the City identified for consideration.

- 1.8 The original Topic paper entitled 'Control of Outdoor Advertising was presented at a workshop on 17th February 2016. It has since been updated to ensure the statistics referenced are up to date for publication alongside the Preferred Options Paper.

Advertisements

- 1.9 The purpose of this paper is to inform Council on how the provision of the Control of outdoor advertisements is to be addressed in the future. It sets out the regional context of the new Council area. It provides an overview of the legislative requirements and current planning policy covering outdoor advertisements in the interests of “amenity” and “public safety” which are the only considerations that can be assessed in the exercise of advertisement control. This paper allows members to consider of how advertising policy and guidance may be formulated within the context of the Regional Development Strategy (RDS) and the Strategic Planning Policy Statement (SPPS).

2.0 Legislative Arrangements

Planning Legislation

Definition of an Advertisement

2.1 The Planning Act defines an advertisement as:

“any word, letter, model, sign, placard, board, notice, awning, blind, device, or representation, whether illuminated or not, in the nature of, and employed wholly or partly for the purposes of, advertisement, announcement or direction, and (without prejudice to the preceding provisions of this definition) includes any hoarding or similar structure used, or designed or adapted for use, and anything else principally used, or designed or adapted principally for use, for the display of advertisements, and references to the display of advertisements shall be constructed accordingly.”

2.2 Section 130 Control of advertisements of the 1Planning (Northern Ireland) Act 2011 requires the Department to make provision, by regulations, for restricting or regulating the display of advertisements so far as it appears to the Council to be expedient in the interests of amenity or public safety. 2The Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2015 as amended is the relevant statutory rule.

2.3 Under the Regulations some types of advertisements are exempt from control by the Council provided certain conditions are met¹. Examples include election posters and most non-illuminated advertisements displayed inside shops.

2.4 Other specified categories of advertisement are deemed to be granted by the Regulations, commonly referred to as ‘deemed consent’, provided they conform to the stated limitations for each category and a schedule of standard conditions². Examples include small plaques on business premises and certain fascia signs.

2.5 All other advertisements require the Department’s express consent, commonly referred as consent to display an advertisement.

2.6 Article 175 of the Planning (Northern Ireland) Act 2011 states that it is an offence to display an advertisement in contravention of the Advertisement Regulations. Further information on this matter together with advice can be found in the new BCC Planning Service Enforcement Customer Charter including the enforcement of advertisement control regulations.

Roads Legislation

- 2.7 In addition to planning legislation, there are separate provisions within roads legislation for the control of advertisements. Article 87 of the Roads (Northern Ireland) Order 1993³ makes it an offence to display any advertisement on a public road, footway or verge or on any tree or structure in or on a public road. Article 21 of the same Order makes it an offence to erect or exhibit any advertisement or notice sited or designed primarily to be visible from a special road or which is likely to prejudice the safety of traffic using a special road. A special road is one designated under Article 15 of the Roads Order and at present these comprise the motorway network and Westlink.
- 2.8 Article 34 of the Road Traffic Regulation (Northern Ireland) Order 1997 makes it an offence to display any sign which resembles a traffic sign on or near a public road.

3.0 Policy Context

Regional Policy

Programme for Government

- 3.1 The Draft programme for Government is a visible commitment by the Executive. It aims to highlight the actions it will take to deliver our number one priority – a vibrant economy which can transform our society.⁴ Programme for Government sites economic growth as the top strategic priority.

Northern Ireland's Road Safety Strategy to 2020

- 3.2 The Department of the Environment (DOE) and its road safety partners (Department for Regional Development (DRD) Roads Service) are committed to the Northern Ireland road safety vision which is: 'To make a journey as safe for all road users as anywhere in the world'.⁵ They have produced a strategy detailing what they intend to do to further improve road safety over the next 10 years'.
- 3.3 Road safety is an issue that affects everyone. We all use the roads to get around, indeed most people use them every day, as drivers, passengers, pedestrians, riders or cyclists. Our roads provide access to work and leisure and to goods and services. They are of critical importance to our economy and community and it is essential to balance efficient movement and mobility with risk to ensure that, as far as possible, we all share and use our roads in safety.
- 3.4 Road Safety is a key priority for Government, and the Northern Ireland and The Road Safety Strategy seeks to promote an integrated approach to the planning, coordination and delivery of the Government's road safety activities. Inappropriate outdoor advertising has the potential to impact significantly on road safety. In assessing proposals for the display of advertisement, care must be taken to ensure that the safety of drivers, cyclists and pedestrians is not jeopardised.

Regional Development Strategy (RDS)

- 3.5 The RDS 2035 provides a framework for strong sustainable economic growth across the region and recognises that a growing regional economy needs a co-ordinated approach to the provision of services, jobs and infrastructure. It provides Regional Guidance to ensure an adequate supply of land to facilitate sustainable economic growth.

- 3.6 It seeks to promote employment and support economic development of the region while sustaining a high quality environment. The role of advertisements is not specifically referred to in the RDS, but advertising by its very nature contributes to the creation of a vibrant and competitive economy. Road Safety is also a key priority for Government.
- 3.7 The RDS is complemented by the DOE's Planning Policy Statements, the most relevant of which is Strategic Planning Policy Statement (SPPS), Planning Policy Statement 17 (PPS) Control of Outdoor Advertisements which sets out the Departments planning policies and guidance for the display of outdoor advertisements. It complements the Governments' commitment to amenity and public safety including road safety. In drawing up the guidance it is acknowledged that amenity and public safety are the only criteria that can be taken into account in assessing proposals for advertisements.

Strategic Planning Policy Statement

- 3.8 The Strategic Planning Policy Statement (SPPS) was adopted in September 2015 to replace DOE PPS's to consolidate policy and guidance. The SPPS sets the regional strategic objectives for the control of advertisements.
- Ensure that outdoor advertisements respect amenity and do not prejudices public safety, including road safety; and
- Help everyone involved in the display of outdoor advertisement contribute positively to the appearance of a well-cared for and attractive environment in our cities, towns villages and the countryside.
- 3.9 The overall policy approach for the display of outdoor advertisements that require the consent of the planning authority is to ensure that proposals do not prejudice amenity or public safety, having regard to the specific circumstance of each proposal. Well designed advertising which respects the building or location where it is displayed and which contributes to a quality environment should be encouraged. Consent should be given for the display of an advertisement where it respects amenity, when assessed in to contact of the general characteristics of the locality; and to ensure proposals do not prejudice public safety, including road safety.
- 3.10 Where appropriate councils should bring forward appropriate policies within Local Development Plans (LDPs) for the control of outdoor advertisements, tailored to local circumstances. Local policies may also be brought forward for the control of advertisements which affect Listed Buildings, Conservation Areas and areas of Townscape Character, and must be compatible with other policies set out within the SPPS.
- 3.11 Care must be taken to ensure that all proposals will not detract from the place where advertising is to be displayed or its surroundings. In particular, it is important to prevent clutter, to adequately control signs involving illumination and to protect features such as listed buildings, and conservation areas from the potential adverse effects of advertising. The subject matter of advertising is not normally a material planning consideration.

Planning Policy Statement 17 Control of Outdoor Advertisements (March 2006)

- 3.12 PPS 17 sets out the planning policy and guidance for the control of outdoor advertisements. It complements the Government's commitment to securing a competitive economy whilst affording appropriate protection to amenity and public safety including road safety. It is supported by 2 main policy objectives and one operational planning policy which set out the main considerations for the display of outdoor advertisements. PPS 17 should also be used in conjunction with policies BH 9, BH13 and ATC 3 of PPS 6 'Planning Archaeology and the Built Heritage'.
- 3.13 The main objectives:
Ensure that outdoor advertisements respect amenity and do not prejudice public safety, including road safety; and Help everyone involved in the display of outdoor advertisements to contribute positively to the appearance of a well-cared for and attractive environment in our cities, towns, villages and the countryside.
- 3.15 The following policy sets out the main considerations the Council will take into account in assessing proposals for the display of outdoor advertisements that require the Council's consent. .
- 3.16 Under the Policy AD 1 Amenity and Public Safety consent will be given for the display of an advertisement where:
it respects amenity, when assessed in the context of the general characteristics of the locality; and it does not prejudice public safety.
- 3.17 Further detailed guidance is set out in Annex A of this guidance document for different categories of outdoor advertisement how such advertising, if appropriately designed and sited, can contribute towards a quality environment. Covering the following advertisements:-
Poster Panel Displays; Shroud Advertisement Displays; Signs on Commercial Premises; Signs on Retail and Business Parks; Signs at Filling Stations and on Forecourts; Pylon and Pole Mounted Signs
- 3.18 Particular care is also necessary to ensure that advertisements do not detract from the unique qualities and amenity of our countryside nor diminish our archaeology and built heritage.
- 3.19 Under the provisions of Article 130 of the Planning (NI) Act 2011 the interests of "amenity" and "public safety" are the only considerations that can be assessed in the exercise of advertisement control.

Amenity

- 3.20 In relation to advertisements the term amenity this is usually understood to mean its effect upon the appearance of the building or structure or the immediate neighbourhood where it is displayed, or its impact over long distance views. A well designed and sensitively sited advertisement, where thought has been given to size, colours, siting and levels of illumination, can contribute positively to the visual qualities of an area. All too often, however, advertisements are added to a building or placed in a location as an afterthought. The result is that a good building, neighbourhood or sensitive location can be easily spoiled by poorly designed advertising, which appears over dominant, unduly prominent or simply out of place.

- 3.21 The amenity of the countryside is particularly important and there is a need to protect its unique qualities from the negative effects of advertising. The only advertisements likely to be acceptable in the countryside are those proposed on site and which relate to existing or approved commercial enterprises. These should be small in scale and not detract from the quality and character of the local landscape.

Public Safety

- 3.22 Advertisements by their very nature are designed to attract the attention of passers-by and therefore have the potential to impact on public safety. In assessing the impact of an advertisement on public safety the Council will have regard to its effect upon the safe use and operation of any form of traffic or transport on land (including the safety of pedestrians), on or over water or in the air. The vital consideration for the Council will be whether the advertisement itself, or the exact location proposed for its display, is likely to be so distracting or confusing that it creates a hazard to, or endangers, people in the vicinity, be they drivers, cyclists or pedestrians. The Council will also bear in mind that, on occasion, some advertisements can positively contribute to public safety, for example, by directing drivers and others to their destination.

Listed Buildings, Conservation Areas and Areas of Townscape Character (ATCs)

- 3.23 Specific policies for the control of advertisements affecting Listed Buildings, Conservation Areas and Areas of Townscape Character (ATCs) are set out in Planning Policy Statement 6 'Planning, Archaeology and the Built Heritage'. Additional guidance for the display of advertisements in particular Conservation Areas is set out in the relevant designation documents and design guides produced by the Department of Environment (DOE) Planning. Additional guidance for the display of advertisements in particular ATCs may be included in any supplementary guidance produced by the DOE/Council for the ATC. (see para 4.23).

Countryside

- 3.24 Poster panel displays are out of place in the countryside and will generally be unacceptable. An exception may be made where the display advertises a particular event, such as a local agricultural show or fair, and is restricted to a specified time period.

Villages and Small Settlements

- 3.25 Large scale poster panel displays are generally out of place in villages and small settlements because of their potential to detrimentally impact on the visual amenity of these locations. Smaller poster panels may be acceptable depending on their size and on the scale and character of the village. The position and siting of such signage should respect the size, scale and character of surrounding buildings and features.

Residential Areas

- 3.26 Poster panel displays are out of place in any predominantly residential locality. The priority in residential areas is to maintain local character and environmental quality and to protect the amenity of residents. The size, scale and intrusive nature of poster panel displays therefore make them generally unacceptable. An exception may be made for the display of a poster panel on bus shelters in residential areas where there will be no significant impact on the amenity of adjacent residents.

Predominantly Commercial Areas

- 3.27 In commercial areas the scale of buildings may be sufficiently large to accommodate poster panel displays without adverse effect on visual amenity. The scale of commercial and industrial surroundings in our cities and towns can however vary greatly, often within short distances. It will be expected therefore that the scale of advertisement displays should respect the scale of adjacent buildings and the wider area.
- 3.28 Where an area is in mixed use, with shops and offices interspersed with residential properties, poster panel displays may on occasion be acceptable. They should be carefully related to the size and scale of surrounding buildings and designed in a manner that will not damage visual amenity or prejudice public safety.

Planning Policy Statement 6: Planning, Archaeology and the Built Heritage (PPS 6)

Policy BH9 Control of Advertisements on a Listed Building

- 3.29 The Council will normally only grant consent for advertisements or signs on a listed building where these are carefully designed and located to respect the architectural form and detailing of the building. Many listed buildings are in commercial use and already display signs or advertisements of some sort. These in themselves may be of historic interest or of some artistic quality, and where this is the case the Council will not normally permit their removal or significant alteration.
- 3.30 New signs or advertisements can have a major impact on the appearance, and thus the character of a listed building. Where a proposal to display signs or advertisements on a listed building is considered acceptable in principle they should be designed to complement the age and architectural style of the building. They should also be carefully located and should not obscure, overlap or cut into any architectural detailing or structural divisions of the building. These considerations will to a large extent dictate the scale of any signage . In many cases a handwritten timber board or a brass plate will provide the most acceptable Planning, Archaeology and the Built Heritage solution. The use of standard corporate signage by major companies will generally be inappropriate.

- 3.31 Projecting signs can often adversely affect the appearance and character of listed buildings and will therefore require very careful consideration. Where their presence is considered acceptable particular attention will be paid to size, design and materials. In most situations signs and advertisements displayed on listed buildings should not be illuminated. Where illumination is justified it should be achieved unobtrusively: light fittings mounted above and projecting forward of the sign will not normally be acceptable.

The Control of Advertisements in Conservation Areas (Policy BH 13) and Areas of Townscape Character (Policy ATC 3)

- 3.32 The Council will not normally grant consent for the display of advertisements in or close to a conservation area and ATCs which would adversely affect the character, appearance or setting of the area or which would be detrimental to public safety.

- 3.33 Many conservation areas include thriving commercial areas where the normal range of advertisements is to be expected, provided they do not detract from visual amenity. The Council accepts that such outdoor advertising is essential to commercial activity, but in view of the statutory duty to pay special attention to the desirability of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of conservation areas, it is also considered reasonable that more exacting standards of advertisement control should apply within such areas.

- 3.34 In assessing proposals for advertisements in a conservation area the Council will give careful consideration to the impact of the proposal on the visual amenity and overall character of the area. In particular, regard will be paid to the following - scale and proportions of the sign; the materials used and whether it is illuminated; architectural style or character of the building; proliferation of signage and large advertisements hoardings. Signage on the upper floors of buildings and the internal illumination of signs will not normally be acceptable.

- 3.35 Additional guidance for the display of advertisements in particular conservation areas is set out in the relevant designation documents and design guides produced by the DOE Planning Service.

- 3.36 The Council will only grant consent for the display of an advertisement in an Area of Townscape Character where it maintains the overall character and appearance of the area, and it does not prejudice public safety.

Local Policy Context

Belfast Metropolitan Area Plan 2015

- 3.37 BMAP emphasises the importance of the economy of the BMA area but tempers this with the need to ensure wider environmental quality of the city and Outdoor Advertising.
- 3.38 The City Centre's public realm is the 'shop window' of Belfast. It is the first and last impression for those who live and work in City, and those who visit. It should convey a strong and positive message to its citizens and to potential investors and visitors. Outwardly, the quality of the public realm of the City should provide an aesthetically inviting image, but fundamentality should both help to be the catalyst to stimulate, encourage, and support economic and social development. Through the following proposals and plans it is the desire of Belfast City Council to position Belfast as the regional capital and the primary retail and leisure destination. The Control of Advertisements therefore plays an important part in the contribution in the making of a quality environment.

4.0 Issues and Approaches

Summary of Key Issues

- 4.1 The current planning policy and guidance appears to be operating reasonably well and propose no changes currently. Consideration however is required on the following areas:-

Shroud/ Mesh—gap in policy on these advertisements no control surrounding the buildings

No wraparound policy using poster panel

A Boards – No policy – rely on DRD to control regarding the footpaths

- For Sale to Let Board — concern from Residents in the Holylands area – work ongoing to look into this issue

- Forecourts Definition required

- Unauthorised Mobile Advertisements – difficulty in enforcing against
- A large number of advertisements on a building or along a road can create clutter and be disruptive to the appearance and character of an area.
- Film covering advertising on the inside window of the shop fronts in Conservation Areas and Listed buildings
- Banner advertising – control
- Illuminated Signs – cluttering of a building including forecourt
- Road Safety issues with flashing signs
- Residential areas in mixed land use can be severely affected by inappropriate or excessive display of illuminated signs.
- Display panels in the BUA on the main radial roads
- Accumulation of signs at particular locations/individual building
- Free standing panel are dominant and conspicuous can affect the character of the area.
- Wall mounted panels can be visually prominent.

Approaches

4.2 The following approaches should be given consideration in the context of the new LDP:

Prescriptive Guidance similar to the removed Development Guidance Notes detailing fascia board and height of the sign upper and lower limits
 Guidance on illuminated signs – height, projection, etc
 Conservation Areas and listed buildings guidance
 Shop front guidance

4.3 This paper highlights the importance of good outdoor advertising not only on the economy, cultural, tourism element, road safety but on the existing public realm of the city and its surrounding rural areas.

4.4 Belfast has a unique natural and urban built environment and the protection and enhancement through sensitive positioning of outdoor advertisings is not only vital to its built heritage and man-made attractions; but to its distinctive cultural scene and streetscape.

4.5 This paper suggested potential opportunities such as:

Use of existing powers to control advertisements that benefit from deemed consent. For Sale and to Let Boards facilitating greater control over its use and the ability to take effective enforcement action.

When preparing designs for new signage or advertisements, the opportunity should be taken to rationalise the number of signs on a building or in an area and remove those which are redundant or excessive.

An Area of Special Control of Advertisements could be applied to certain parts of a Conservation areas/ Areas of Townscape Character to avoid insensitive outdoor advertisements.

Greater powers to remove unapproved advertisements that would affect visual amenity and public safety.

- 4.6 Land use planning can encourage the provision of a quality environment that promotes and enhances whilst protecting the City's public realm, visual amenity and physical appearance of the cityscape, which will attract tourists, visitors, investors into Belfast LGD and aid to grow the economy.
- 4.7 This information contained within this topic paper has been used to inform the next stage of the LDP process, the Preferred Options Paper.
- 4.8 This information contained within this topic paper has been used to inform the next stage of the LDP process, the Preferred Options Paper.

21.—(1) Subject to paragraphs (2) and (3), any person who erects or exhibits or causes or permits to be erected or exhibited any advertisement or notice which is sited or designed wholly or mainly for the purpose of being visible to persons using a special road or which is likely to prejudice the safety of traffic using a special road shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale.
