Belfast in Bloom

What is Belfast in Bloom?

2018 is blossoming in to an exciting year for Belfast, especially as we are hosting Britain in Bloom in October. With so many events, celebrations and remarkable projects happening in the heart of the city, we want to create a warm and friendly welcome to all who work, live and visit Belfast.

Last year, hanging baskets, mangers and flower towers brightened up many areas across Belfast.

Individuals, groups, schools and commercial premises worked hard to bring together colourful and memorable displays.

By taking part in our Belfast in Bloom campaign, you are also increasing our city's chance to be chosen for the Britain in Bloom competition.

Whether it's cheering up forgotten flowerbeds, arranging a simple window box, or taking part in a larger regeneration project, everyone can do their bit. All you need is a garden, a window sill or a front door!

Competition

Belfast in Bloom also runs an annual competition for individuals, groups, schools and commercial premises to enter their best floral displays for judging.

Entry to the competition is free and anyone can take part in Belfast in Bloom, whether you're working on your own or as part of a group.

The closing date for the schools category is 15 June 2018. The closing date for all other categories is 20 July 2018. Judging takes place during August 2018.

To enter simply fill in your details on the following page, indicating which category you wish to enter, and post it back to us.

Winners will be notified by post in September. Getting the community involved is a key part of the campaign and we need everyone's support to make Belfast brighter.

So what are you waiting for? Get involved now and help make Belfast bloom!
